

Proposal for New South Lebanon
Early Learning Center

What Others are Saying....

“In addition to being a “state of the art” facility, the all-inclusive center could forge a link among families of all income levels in this growing municipality.”

Linda Scott, Writer
Pulse-Journal
July 12, 2007

“The new facility will appeal to families of all income levels and will enhance the image of the community. It will show that South Lebanon values education and believes that children are worth our investment.”

Lisa Cayard
Director, WCCS
Village of South Lebanon

“The ability to access a quality program such as this (WCCS’ Early Learning Centers) will open the opportunity for employment to many individuals. Childcare is not just a social service issue; it is an economic development and workforce development issue.”

Karen Whittamore
Director
Workforce One

“...affordable child care is essential...to move more families out of poverty in the South Lebanon area and decrease the numbers that rely on public welfare programs.”

Doris F. Bishop
Department of Human Services

“...with all you got going on here in South Lebanon, you’re going to have a lot of employment opportunities available to parents who maybe didn’t have those opportunities before, so they will need a place to leave their children...”

Lisa Cayard
Director, WCCS
Village of South Lebanon